Session of Central Committee Held at St. Mary's Hall.

President McGinn Named Men to Look After Special Work.

Delegates Decide to Stand By Ruling of Supreme Officers.

A BIG BENEFIT IS ARRANGED.

The Central Committee of the Catholic Knights of America held a resentation of delegates was present when President Joseph P. McGinn rapped for order. All but two officers were present and the majority of branches were represented. The committees for the new year named by President McGinn are as follows:

Entertainment—William M. Hig-gins, Charles Hill, John Schalda, William T. Meehan, Charles Falk, Thomas Feely, Charles Desse and Capt. Gus

Membership—Harry Veeneman, Eugene McCarthy, Oscar Maier, John Kelly, John Score and John Kinney. Ritual—William T. Meehan, Capt Gus Kane, Ben Speaker, Bernard Coll

and Ben Kruse. Employment-Col. M. Reichert Gus Kane, John Murphy, B. A. Coll and Jacob Goby.

A communication from State President Deiterman announced his ruling that the State convention would be held next year instead of this year. This is contrary to the ruling of the Supreme President and Su-preme Directors. The Central Com-mittee decided to abide by the decision of the Supreme officers. Each different branch will take vote on the question. Several of the delegates said that ill-natured rumors from Illinois, and apparently emanating from a former member, were being circulated to the detriment of the order. It was determined to make an attempt to catch up with the person and put a stop to his silly stories. A further discussion of President Deiterman's ruling on the State convention developed the unanimous sentiment among the delegates that the State Presi dent had no right to rule so as to vitiate the law as it stands.

Herman H. Frenke, President of Branch 6, one of the largest in the order, attended the meeting of Central Committee as a spectator. He was called upon for an address, and in reply said he had spent a pleasant evening listening to the various dis cussions. He was glad to learn that the Central Committee was accomplishing much good. Mr. Frenke also made a splendid argument for at least two general meetings of the colleagues. Last week Sarto Counci every year. He said it would serve man, to make the members better acquainted and produce a better feel- the three degrees were conferred or would learn what the Catholic Knights were doing. In conclusion he said that he would strive to have Branch 6 take the lead in securing new members and would be a frequent visitor to the sessions of the Central Committee.

Capt. Gus Kane also made a splendid talk on the Uniform Rank particular and the order in general Several other delegates made brief addresses on promoting membership and general interest in the Knights Ritual Committee reported

Before the meeting adjourned it was decided to arrange a benefit and the Entertainment Committee was given full power to act. Since the meeting the committee has arranged that the benefit will take place at Hopkins Theater on Monday, The fact that the new motion pictures continue through the afternoon and evening will give every Catholic Knight, his family and friends a chance to witness the performance at a nominal cost.

Samuel Robertson introduced resolutions providing for the organization of a band among the members, and the suggestion met with the full approval of the council. John Kinney made his report as delegate to the Catholic Federation. During the evening quite a nice addition was made toward the fund for a memorial window in St. Cecilia's new church. It was formally announced that the next initiation would be held on the evening of Tuesday, March 24. Brief addresses were made by William Kerberg, Samuel Robertson, Lee Fisher, Thomas Henley, William M. Higgins, R. W. Galway, Charles S. Raidy, Louis J. Kieffer, Ben Sand, John Kinney and Frank Zuerner. Thomas D. Clines made the hit of the evening with a recitation.

President Burke stated that he felt confident that the remaining debt of $3,000 on the club house would be paid and the membership increased to 600 before the year

It was determined to put rival teams in the field to secure new members, and Charles S. Raidy and R. W. Galway were named as Captains of the opposing sides. The names of those on the contending factions will be announced at the next meeting. Each Captain will select his own assistants.

Cardinal Gibbons Declares That Prohibition Is of No Avail in Cities.

Proclaims High License Will Do More to Promote Temperance.

Men Can Not Be Legislated Into Performing Good Work.

ALL SHOULD UPHOLD TEMPERANCE

His Eminence Cardinal James Gibbons gave an authorative interview to the Baltimore daily papers last Tuesday. This dignified churchman favors high license, instead of prohibition, as a promoter of temperance.

This is what he says:

"Local option should under no circumstances apply to this city. I regret to be compelled to return to the subject, but as a citizen and as a churchman who loves his native city, I am profoundly impressed with sense of its temporal and moral welfare.

"Liquor would be sold here quite as abundantly under prohibition laws as under well regulated license. The consequences will be that liquor will be dispensed contrary to law instead of being sold in accord with law. Then, too, the city will be deprived of a large revenue which is so much needed for the government of this ommunity.

"When a law is flagrantly and habitually violated it brings legis-lation into contempt. It creates a spirit of deception and hypocrisy and compels men to do insidiously and by stealth what they would otherwise do openly and above board.
"All good men-good citizens-are in favor of the virtue of temperance, and I regret to see that the moral side of the question has not been sufficiently considered. You can no legislate men by civil action into the performance of good and righteous

"If we are to improve the morality of our city and make our citizens more temperate, let the virtue of temperance be proclaimed in the churches. Above all, let it be enforced in the family that parents, both by word and example, may inculcate in their children the temporal and spiritual blessings which spring from which for 2,000 years have been agitating this question. There is not single city in Great Britain, Ireand or on the Continent which empts to prohibit by law the sale of liquor. They have learned from long experience that the best method of regulating this article of commerce is to impose licenses, to maintain good order for the protecion of the citizens and to punish he violators of law.

"I therefore maintain that high icense is the only solution of the problem. The infliction of fines ipon the violators of the law for the first offense and the withdrawal of the license or even imprisonment for subsequent infractions, would be proper punishment.'

Sister Sabina celebrated her sixty-ninth birthday on December 21 of last year. The deceased nun entered the community more than forty-eight years ago, and was at all times one of its most useful and energetic members. Her whole life was dedicated to works of charity and benevolence. Thousands of patrons and pupils of Nazareth will read of her death with regret. It was to Sister Sabina that most of the girls educated at Naz-areth went with their troubles and sorrows. She consoled them tenderly as a mother and sent them

Revision of Vulgate Will Occupy An Extraordinary Lifetime.

Collating and Comparing Early Copies Is Not An Easy Task.

His Holiness Pope Pius X. has confided to the followers of St. Benedict the work of collating and revising the various copies of the Vulgate or official Latin Bible as it Vulgate or official Latin Bible as it was originally given to the church by St. Jerome. This does not mean that the doctrines of the church are to be revised or changed, but that the texts of the various branches.

WHAT PAUL SAYS. the texts of the various copies of St. Jerome's collation are to be compared and brought to a single standard. Before the art of writing either on stone, vellum or papyrus many stories contained in the Old Testament were handed down tradition. Later they were written in Sanskrit, Greek, Arabic and Latin-The ancient doctors of the church gathered these together, both the Old and New Testaments, and two together constitute what known as the Bible. In those early days, in fact for enturies afterward, there were no movable types, no printing presses All the copying had to be done with pen and ink. The copying was a labor of love on the part of the monks of the various monasteries Strive as they would various errors crept in. The present Pope desires the Benedictines to go over, study minutely and compare these various copies that are scattered all over Christendom. Several of the very inest, and what are supposed to be the most correct copies, are to be found in Ireland. Other copies, made the Irish monks as far back as the days of St. Patrick, were taken from Ireland by the Norman invaders and now rest in England, where they are held out as Saxon copies of the Vulgate.

Abbot Gasquet, present head of the Benedictines, to whom this work has been confided, is an Englishman by birth, but an eminent churchman and the Irish people can rest asmonks of Erin will get full credit from him for the part they have played in making copies of the text as prepared by St. Jerome. #### Burlingame Tells Chicago Ministrers About Sunday Closing.

Sometimes one has to read out-of town papers to get the real news Then after you read it all, it is not the all really true. For instance, the is Chicago Tribune last Sunday, in handling an article in reference Chicago ministers and the Sunday closing movement, gave us this bit of information: "A letter from Paul Burlingame

Secretary to Mayor Grinstead, of Louisville, pleased Mr. Farwell and the ministers immensely. It is as follows: 'I wish to say that the closing of the saloons on Sunday in Louisville has resulted in a marked populated ranches and hasten the decrease in the number of cases or the Police Court dockets Mondays It is especially notable that the number of drunken brawls which resulted from the open saloons on Sundays has largely decreased. There is no way in which I am able to arrive at anything like exact figures, but the effect has been widely noted. There is apparently no effect upon the general business of the city, save that the hotels complain of the loss of business which they enjoyed when their bars were open Sunday. The Sunday closing has met with genera favor, and it would be next to impos sible at this time to induce the early saints and people to go back to the old way.' One can take the Police Cour dockets on Mondays since the Sunday closing movement went into effect heavy as before. It is a positive facthat if the Sunday closing law wa put to a vote of the Louisville peop right now that it would be repealed his followers. He estimates that the This ought to be known to Mr Burlingame.

People of Ireland Not Satisfied With Present Measures.

Irish Must Make Their Own Laws Before Content Is Reached.

Hon. John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish party in Parliament, is not at all optimistic about achieving home rule for the people of Ireland during the present session of Parliament. At the same time he hopes to obtain some measure of relief in the passage of a new land bill and the university bill. Mr. Redmond says the Irish people will never be contented until they can make their own laws. In a recent interview own laws. In a recent interview with the correspondent of a New York daily he was asked: "Do you think that the forthcoming land act and the university bill will bring contentment to Ireland?" "No," he answered, "nothing will bring contentment to Ireland until the Irish people make their own laws and their own Parliament, and administer those laws under a system of the property of the tem subject to Irish popular opinion. The correspondent asked: "Do you think the Government will introduce a strong measure at this session. and if it does will the House of Lords pass it?"

His answer was: "I hope so, There is a smoldering fire now which may creation of a peasant proprietary, recognizing in practical form the principle that the land of Ireland must be posessed by the people of Ireland, and possessed at once. Cattle driving, about which so many falsehoods are told, has nothing cruel or inhuman in it. There has not been a single case in which injury was done to any beast. The people drive the cattle as a protest against the conduct of those who have often driven and are still driving them. The policy of driving the Irish people from the land in order to make room for bullocks is historical. John Wesley wrote about it when he visited Ireland in the eighteenth century. He said: 'The gentry are continually driving away hundreds, yea, thousands, by throw-Foster has an unsavory record both ing such quantities of arable land at home and abroad. #### MANY IMPROVEMENTS WERE MADE

The annual meeting of the stock holders of the Louvisille Railway Company was held in the company office on Jefferson street, near Flourth, Wednesday afternoon and the former directors and officers were re-elected. The officers inelude: Thomas J. Minary, President; Alex P. Humphrey, Vice President and General Counsel, and Samuel G. Boyle, Secretary and Treasurer The Directors are Charles T. Ballard Harry Bishop, Samuel Casseday, Attila Cox, Alex H. Davis, Oscar Fenley, H. H. Littell, Alex P. Humphrey, T. J. Minary, J. B. Speed and John Stites.

President Minary presented his an nual report, which showed a decreas of $4,490 during the year 1907. This is not surprising when one considers the financial stringency that has swept over the country, causing the close of workshops and factories, thus reducing the number of fares for the street car company. Th. Ohio to attend the wedding of her report also shows that many next ousin, Miss Catherine McDermott, of cars have been purchased, additional transfers have been granted and many other improvements have been made. ## KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

Omaha Knights have taken hold with firm hand and will this year secure their own home.

The three degrees were conferred ast Sunday by Pueblo Council, one of the most progressive in Colorado. Cincinnati Council will honor Most Rev. Archbishop Moeller with a reception at the Hotel Sinton on the evening of February 26.

Four towns in Illinois have organ ized a base ball league of Knights. Bloomington, Clinton, Decatur and Springfield councils are those to be represented.

Pennsylvania Knights have remon strated against legislation providing for the reclassification and raising of postage rates on second class mail matter. Senator Knox presented the memorial, which came from twenty-nine councils.

HINTS ON STYLE.

For pin cushions plain satin rib-bons still hold sway. Chiffon cloth veils are the best for protection against winds and dust. For the mid-season the hat of black satin and tulle has already fashion. Embroidered Irish, chantilly and point de Venis lace are successfully introduced on many of the black evening gowns.

Gauntlet gloves are the very latest smart wrinkles for wear with tail-ored attire. The flaring cuff is practical and distinctive.

Filet lace is a favorite at present for boudoir lingerie articles. It matches the lace used on dressing tables and for bed and window

Lovely embroideries are carried out in floss silk, alone or combined with silver, gold or black threads or with bugles and beads, or both velvet and moussaline.

Soutache braiding as a decoration for coats and jackets continues to grow in popularity, and the latest models show quantities of this trimming in every width and in all manner of designs.

DIVIDE BED FOR CHILDREN.

Here is a simple contrivance which takes the place of separate beds for children. Take an old soft comforter which can be easily washed and roll it the long way so that it will reach from the head to the foot of the bed. At night place this roll down the center of the bed, between the sheets, letting it also separate the pillows.

The children are thus entirely separate the pillows. arated, though one set of covers does for both. The covers can be pinned to the roll with large safety pins to Cardinal Francis Patrick Moran, of Sydney, Australia, is now taking a rest from his labors and visiting boyhood scenes in Ireland. His Eminence was born September 17, 1830, at Lechlinbridge, County Kildare. He was elevated to the rank to the roll with large safety pins to keep them from slipping. The roll prevents the motions of one child prevents the motions of one child is covers in place, and gives the little ones something soft to "snuggle up" to. Each child is practically alone in a bed by itself.

SIGHT VICTORY.

Kentucky Irish American Bowlers Full of Confidence.

The Kentucky Irish American powling team left for Cincinnati, via the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern railroad, this morning to take part in the eighth annual international tournament of the American Bowling Congress. The members of the team who made the trip are John J. Barry, D. J. Gleeson, Thomas M. Barry, Bert Curry, Bernard Flynn, Jr., J. G. Minnegerode, Jr., and Frank P. J. Burke. The team is due to roll at 8 o'clock tonight. Every member is in good shape and is confident of making a fine record. The con-test is being held at the Armory building in Cincinnati and the alleys are said to be fine and fast.
Last year there were irty Louisville teams that went to St. Louis and the Kentucky Irish American bowlers rolled in second place. The first five named above will roll, and not only the whole team but all their friends in Louisville expect them to make a better showing than they made last year. Sunday afternoon members of the K. I. A. will roll in the two-men and individual contests. Big delegations from Louisville will leave today and tomorrow to eer their respective favorites to victory. At the same time many others not interested in bowling are going to Cincinnati on account of the extremely low rates offered by the B, and O, S. W.

QUITE BUSY

Was the Latest Session of Division 4 at Bertrand Hall.

Inclement weather had no terrors for members of Division 4, A. O. H. Monday night, and Bertrand Hall was crowded, much to the gratifica-tion of President John H. Hennessy and his fellow officers. Six applications for membership were received, and William A. Perry and John Fitzgibbons were obligated. Michael Ward, who was on the sick list for several weeks, was reported well. A communication from the Ladies' Auxliary, announcing a euchre and dance for next Wednesday evening, was received. Many members signified their intention of attending.

President Hennessy made formal announcement that a joint initiation was to be held by the four divisions on the night of February 27. urged a full attendance of Division 4 on that occasion. Guy Thurman Paul Schnell and Frank Sweeney were elected to membership. William J. Connolly resigned from the Visiting Committee and Michael Welsh was appointed in his stead.

Joseph P. McGinn made a ROASTER. S splendid plea for the reorganization of the Hibernian Rifles, and insisted would make a handsome appearance military uniform. He urged that the matter be taken up at once. President Hennessy said the matter was worth earnest consideration. He named Col. McGinn and Stephen J. McElliott a committee to work up interest in the movement.

VISITORS WELCOMED.

De Fraine Council Heard Addresses From Mackin's Members.

De Fraine Council, Y. M. I., Lebanon, Ky., held an important meeting Monday night, and, in addition to transacting important business, heard addresses from John J. Barry, of New Haven, former Su-Director; Ben Sand, former President of Mackin Council, and his successor, Robert T. Burke. A committee from the council met the visitors at the train and escorted them to the school hall of St. Augustine's church, where they were given seats of honor beside President Arthur Smith, Under the head of good of the order each of the visit-ors made an address and members of the council did not hesitate to voice their applause.
It was found that there was some-

MOTION PICTURES.

Hopkins Theater's Form of Entertainment Is Immense.

The "motion pictures" now being produced at Hopkins Theater by the Crawford Film Company of St. Louis, and under the management of E. W. Dustin, have won success in Louisville. They advertise themselves. The first week has done the business, The ceremonies of blessing the but Louisville audiences are as crit-ical as any in the United States, and unless the present standard is maintained the succes will not last. Mr. Dustin says that he has only started; that each week will see an improvement. Every utterance he has made thus far has been fulfilled.

To those who have seen moving picture shows during the past few years the Crawford productions are a revelation. In the first place there is little or none of that glaring, scintillating, jerking light that annoys and tires the eye. The pictures now being presented at Hopkins are quiet and more true to nature. While there is room for improvement the pictures are the best seen here thus far. The pictures displayed this week were entertaining to all, because they portrayed human interest stories. The reproduction of "Fran-cesca de Remini" was vivid, excellent and of emgrossing interest. The patriotic and comedy pictures also evoked much interest and applause. The explanations by Manager Dustin, and the musical numbers both de serve recognition,

HUSTLING MANAGER.

E. J. Klane, the manager of the Purak Works operated by the Merchants' Ice and Cold Storage Company, has already proven to be one of the greatest hustlers that ever came to Louisville. In addition his natural energy, Mr. Kanbrings a thorough knowledge of the business to aid in advancing his company's trade. For ten years he traveled for the Liquid Carbonic Company of Chicago, and visited every State in the Union, meeting success everywhere. More than that, he is practical chemist and is recognized throughout the country as an authority on soda and minera! waters. He removed to Louisville November 1 to assume the management of the Purak works here. Since then he has had no occasion to regret the change. He says the people of Louisville are warm hearted and can always be trusted to buy the best of everything in the market.

THEATRICAL.

Next week's offering at the Masonic Theater will be "Piff, Paff, Pouff," its best bill of the season. It is a pleasing musical comedy, and until this year has been seen only at top prices. The company is large and competent one and big houses will be the order.
